

Reimagining the Face of Mining

Artemis Project Launches New Partnership with Eldorado Gold.

March 8, 2022

TORONTO, ONTARIO, Artemis Project is an organization that was established to accelerate business outcomes for female entrepreneurs in the mining and metals industry. The organization acts as a vehicle for mining companies to strengthen their supply chains and leverage a vetted pool of female entrepreneurs that provide a broad range of professional services and products from mine to market.

“We are very pleased to announce our partnership with Eldorado Gold,” said Heather Gamble, Founder and CEO of Artemis Project. “This partnership will further elevate the level of procurement with female-owned businesses in the mining supply chain and advance innovation, diversity and sustainability in the industry.”

Eldorado Gold is a gold and base metals producer with mining, development and exploration operations in Turkey, Canada, Greece and Romania. Eldorado believes that actively including diverse people, perspectives and ideas is critical to its business and to its ability to create shared value for stakeholders. A more diverse workforce unlocks greater creative thinking, problem-solving and perspectives. Gender is one dimension of diversity where the mining industry has collectively acknowledged that more can be done to include both men and women.

“We are excited about our partnership with Artemis Project to further the inclusion of women in mining,” said George Burns, President and CEO of Eldorado Gold. “Gender is an important dimension of diversity that we support through our workforce, and we want to extend our commitment further to our supply chain. We look forward to taking an active role in accelerating business outcomes for women entrepreneurs in the mining and metals industry.”

Eldorado Gold – Quebec first engaged with Artemis in late 2021 to hire two Chilean female mining engineers via a sister project established by Artemis that supports female engineering graduates struggling to find job placement in Chile.

“We are thrilled that Eldorado Gold is deepening our partnership and their commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion by leveraging multiple avenues to meet their strategic objectives around DE&I. We look forward to a long and productive collaboration with Eldorado Gold,” said Heather Gamble.

The Artemis-Eldorado Gold partnership commenced January 1, 2022.
